We have taken the utmost effort to examine and grade your diamond objectively, using professional gemological terminology and equipment, according to the strict standards to which Gem Report Antwerp is committed.

CONDITIONS AND LIMITATIONS

This report presents the findings of a diamond analysis. The characteristics of the diamond were examined, tested and graded through the use of Gem Report Antwerp's top techniques and instruments. This report is not an appraisal or valuation and does not serve as a guarantee or warranty. This report was carefully prepared by Gem Report Antwerp's personnel in accordance with accepted industry standards. The process of analyzing a diamond requires human skill, expertise, and subjective interpretation of certain findings. Different findings in other reports which pertain to the same diamond may be attributable to various reasons, such as the use of different grading methods and the development of new techniques and equipment. The findings in this report describe the characteristics of the diamond at the time of the analysis. Any future changes made to the diamond may alter its characteristics. This report is provided solely at the request of the client, and is only valid for the characteristics noted at the time of analysis. Future changes void the certificate "or something similar" Nothing in this report shall be considered as providing any third party with rights, including any beneficiary rights. Disclaimer: Gem Report Antwerp disclaims all warranties and makes no expressed or implied representations to the client or to any third party with respect to this report, the findings within, or to any laser engravings that may be on the diamond. Gem Report Antwerp, including its officers, directors, employees and agents, shall not be liable in tort, contract or in any other form of liability, for damages of any kind, including direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, punitive and statutory damages, not for any loss, including profit loss, costs, expenses and payments, arising from or in connection with any and all matters pertaining to this report, including faults, errors, omissions, breakdowns and malfunctions, or for any action, or failure to take action, either by the client or by any third party, in relation to, in consideration of or in reliance upon this report.
